

In this month's newsletter, we begin with an overview of transition to retirement income streams. Our animation illustrates five common money misconceptions that can inhibit the development of a healthy relationship with money, both now and in the future. There may come a time in your life when you provide care to a loved one—we discuss the Government's financial assistance to eligible carers. A financial rule of thumb is a general guideline or approximation that can be beneficial in basing initial plans or promoting initial actions—we provide a summary of several well-known financial rules of thumb. Lastly, there is a TED Talk by Dr Carl June, where he covers a ground-breaking treatment method in the fight against cancer.
